Always the Option of Getting a Job

C. C. Moseley is the chairman of an unnamed company in Glendale, Calif., who writes gadfly letters against the government and broadcasts them to newspapers all over the U.S.

Most foreign letters addressed to a local paper like The Star go into File 13—the waste-basket—but occasionally one turns up with research data and a specific charge.

Under date of Aug. 7 our letter writer charges that students who were delinquent on federal loans by 13.3 million dollars last year will be delinquent by 33.8 millions this year. These figures, he writes, were brought out in hearings before the Subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations on the Urgent Supplemental Appropriation Bill of 1972.

The point of Mr. Moseley's missive is that because of students' disregard of their obligations the Congress is being asked to come up with an additional 20 million dollars of the taxpayers' money.

Obviously these young folks are borrowing to get an education that will improve their lot in life, then having obtained a job they welch on repayment of the loan.

They should be prosecuted for the last dollar. This is not a cruel and inhuman position. Look at it this way:

The boy or girl who borrows money for schooling and doesn't pay it back is personally damaging the chance of some other boy or girl for academic advancement. There is only so much financing, therefore a welcher automatically cuts out someone else's chances for a loan.

The Star has a deep interest in education. When property was "broke" and couldn't pay taxes as we came out of the 1929-33 depression this editor advocated a state sales tax and it was enacted in 1935.

For years your editor has contributed to the Student Loan Fund of the Hope Business & Professional Women's Club, and, in later years, Star Publishing Co. has contributed annually to the Arkansas Foundation of Associated Colleges, which aids the non-tax-supported schools of our state.

I recall once asking the girls of B. & P. W. how they were faring in collecting on loans after students were graduated and in a job. There were only a couple of delinquents, and I suggested legal proceedings against them.

Borrowing is a two-way street, which means there's no room for deadbeats. The argument I gave B. & P. W. is the same that I am developing here. There's only so much money in the B. & P. W. loan fund, so any time a borrower fails to repay this revolving fund he or she automatically cuts out some other student who needs and deserves a loan.

What's true of private funds is twice true of the taxpayer's money. A handful of student deadbeats could disgust a nation and cut off federal loans entirely.

If they don't want to pay what they owe let 'em skip college and get a job.

GRADUATE RETURNS

Miss Pat Fuller of Texarkana, a 1969 graduate of Red River Vocational Technical School, visited the school recently to talk to the business education classes concerning her work and encouraged the student to make the most of the training offered.

McGovern kicks off major campaign trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — George McGovern today kicks off the first major campaign trip in his come-from-behind run for the White House, returning to New Hampshire where it all began five months ago.

With a new running-mate finally selected and approved, the Democratic presidential candidate planned a hectic two-day swing to Manchester, N.H., Hartford, Conn., Providence, R.I., and New York City.

The first stop is the J.F. McElwain Co. shoe factory in Manchester, a largely symbolic appearance for McGovern. He says it was his appearance there last Feb. 18 during the New Hampshire primary campaign that he first fully appreciated his appeal to blue-collar workers.

"That's the place where it became apparent to me that these factory workers were sympathetic," McGovern said in Washington Wednesday. "I've always seen that as the turning-point in the campaign."

Go McGovern! And get gas

HONOLULU (AP) — You can get a fill-up of liquid gas and a bit of political gas at the same time at a service station being operated here to raise money for Sen. George McGovern's presidential campaign.

The "McGovern Gas and Go" station, located at one of the city's busiest intersections, opened Wednesday.

Dennis Chun, the official spokesman for the Hawaii for McGovern Committee, said his group hopes the station will net between five and seven cents a gallon on the gasoline it sells for five to six cents a gallon less than nearby stations.

Chun declined to estimate how much money might be raised at the station, which his group has leased through September.

Young McGovern supporters, working four-hour shifts with no pay, man the pumps with a ready supply of McGovern bumper stickers, literature and buttons available to motorists.

But on this trip, he said, "instead of making a speech to them I'm going back to listen—to ask them what they think the next president of the United States ought to be concerning himself with, what they're worried about...."

A Harris Survey poll published Wednesday showed McGovern trailing President Nixon 57 to 34 with 9 per cent undecided.

As McGovern's New England trip was being mapped, running-mate Sargent Shriver was busy in Washington meeting Democratic party officials and honing up on McGovern's position on the campaign issues.

One McGovern aide said that everytime McGovern's "issue men" meet to brief Shriver, they keep getting interrupted by phone calls and demands that Shriver make an appearance.

Shriver himself told a television executive Tuesday night that he could not appear on a network program Wednesday. "They're not ready to unleash me yet," he joked.

Shriver's nomination to fill the vice-presidential spot on the ticket was overwhelmingly approved by the Democratic National Committee Tuesday night.

Shriver and McGovern spent most of Wednesday in meetings with various groups of party leaders, including separate caucuses of Senate and House Democrats, women and Spanish-speaking party members and Democratic governors.

In other political developments:

—Former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally Jr. announced formation of a "Democrats for Nixon" organization which he said will include former Florida Gov. Farris Bryant; Miami Mayor David Kennedy; Teamsters Union President Frank Fitzsimmons, and the Johnson administration's director of the United States Information Agency, Leonard Marks.

—Presidential counselor Robert H. Finch said Wednesday that Nixon may launch his own re-election campaign in San Diego, Calif., late this month.

Senate passes handgun bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A ban on the sale of easily concealable handguns has been passed by the Senate and sent to an uncertain fate in the House.

The Senate passed the measure, 68 to 25, late Wednesday after three days of debate and overwhelming rejection of stronger gun controls.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., the bill's chief sponsor, said it would "take out of the marketplace the weapons used most frequently by criminals."

The Senate bill is aimed primarily at cheap, snub-nosed, light-weight handguns of the kind commonly called "Saturday night specials," but it also would bar the sale of other higher-quality weapons that are easily concealed.

Bayh said the bill would have prevented the legal sale of the guns used to assassinate Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in 1968 and to shoot Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace three months ago.

The attempted assassination of Wallace during his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination spurred Senate action on the measure.

Bayh estimated the bill would ban the sale of about one million of the 2½ million pistols and revolvers sold each year in this country.

But it would do nothing about the millions of handguns now privately owned.

The Senate rejected attempts to outlaw private ownership of handguns and to require registration of all firearms and licensing of gun owners.

The Senate did adopt amendments making the murder or attempted murder of policemen, firemen and prison guards on active duty a federal crime and providing for priority handling in the federal courts of criminal trials involving use or possession of a firearm.

The bill also was amended to set an additional separate penalty for carrying or using a firearm in the commission of a felony.

The Senate rejected, 70 to 27, an amendment by Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., to permit dealers to sell present stocks of the handguns outlawed by the legislation. It would have allowed continued sales of all models until the secretary of the Treasury acted to disapprove them.

In 1968 Congress ordered a ban on imports of handguns not suitable for sporting purposes and the regulations issued by the Treasury Department to enforce the law would be applied to domestic sales by the new bill.

VN forces make gains in city; KO 14 tanks

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces made their first gains in Quang Tri in two weeks, clearing the southern sector and knocking out 14 tanks to the southwest of the city, but they suffered heavy casualties in a major enemy attack in the central highlands, field reports said today.

A large North Vietnamese force heavily shelled a government militia group of about 300 men in the highlands Wednesday night, 20 miles southwest of Pleiku and 15 miles from the Cambodian border.

The militia troops lost radio contact with rear headquarters and retreated from their defensive positions, losing 15 men killed, 10 missing and 20 wounded, field reports said. The government troops later regrouped.

There was no firm count on enemy casualties but field officers estimated as many as 100 North Vietnamese may have been killed by air and artillery strikes.

North Vietnamese forces also drove about 100 militiamen from a nearby hamlet in a simultaneous but smaller attack. Initial reports said two government troops were killed, one missing and two wounded.

On the far northern front, only isolated snipers remained in the southern sector of Quang Tri but a 400-man enemy battalion held firm in the northern half of the city which includes the Citadel, field reports said.

A communique issued at northern military headquarters in Hue said four supply trucks were destroyed by South Vietnamese bombers during a three-hour bombing raid six miles southwest of the provincial capital. The raid also knocked out the 14 tanks and killed 15 enemy, the communique said.

Associated Press photographer Koichiro Morita reported from Quang Tri that the marines advanced to the river that forms the southwestern boundary of the city. It was their first progress in two weeks.

Morita said that marine units in both the southern and northern sectors were receiving heavy mortar fire from North Vietnamese troops on the opposite side of the Thach Han River.

One marine unit fought within 500 yards of the Citadel and claimed killing 61 North Vietnamese Wednesday. Five marines were reported killed and 39 wounded.

Fighting erupted on all sides of the city, and U.S. bombers knocked out four North Vietnamese tanks on the outskirts, field reports said.

Government spokesmen at Hue claimed 273 North Vietnamese troops were killed in fighting around Quang Tri, on the western flanks of Hue near an outpost called Checkmate, and in the Que Son Valley south of Da Nang. Fourteen South Vietnamese troops were reported killed and 96 wounded.

Three civilians were killed and 11 were wounded when four artillery rounds hit Hue, the Saigon command announced.

More than 60 U.S. B52 bombers pounded North Vietnamese positions on both sides of the demilitarized zone.

A U.S. Air Force F4 Phantom attacking North Vietnamese troop positions about 15 miles southwest of Hue was hit by automatic weapons fire Wednesday. The two crewmen bailed out over the South China Sea and a rescue helicopter picked them up 15 minutes later.

Low clouds curtailed U.S. fighter-bomber strikes against North Vietnam Wednesday, the U.S. Command said. It reported less than 170 missions.

Several clashes were reported in the southern sector of South Vietnam.

Communist forces attacked a militia outpost just off the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway about 30 miles northwest of Saigon. The pre-dawn attack killed nine militia defenders and wounded seven. Enemy losses were not known.

South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 31 North Vietnamese troops in a two-hour fight near Hill 172 about two miles east of An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon. The Saigon troops also recaptured four American 106MM howitzers. The only South Vietnamese losses reported were two men wounded.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency claimed that Cambodian rebels on Monday overran the town of Kompong Trabek, 85 miles west of Saigon and 15 miles from the border. The Communist news agency claimed that three Cambodian government battalions were badly mauled.

In Phnom Penh, a government spokesman said Cambodian forces still held part of Kompong Trabek.

All Around Town

The Hope Parks and Recreation Department is planning a men's slow-pitch softball tournament for the week of August 21-25. Any church, independent, or industrial team wishing to enter the double elimination tournament should contact the Hope Youth Center. A $5 entry fee will be charged per team with a 1st and 2nd place trophy to be awarded.

The Hempstead County Antique Collectors Club will sponsor a Flea Market Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5 in the 700 block of S. Hervey St. Any dealers or buyers are welcome.

Marion Elizabeth Ogden is among 10 students who will be recognized for their scholastic achievement by graduating with distinction from Henderson State College at the college's summer commencement exercises on Friday.

Kathy McRoy and Carla Delaney attended pre-registration sessions at Arkansas State University in Jonesboro last week.

Richard Dudley Saltee of Hope is among nine Henderson

State College ROTC Cadets who are scheduled to receive their commissions as Second Lieutenants at the college's summer commissioning ceremonies Friday.

Wendel Ray McCorkle is scheduled to receive a master of science in education degree at State College of Arkansas in Conway at its commencement exercises August 11.

U.S. Air Force Sergeant Calvin J. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lester Shaw Sr., 503 N. Dairy St., Hope, has arrived for duty at Holloman AFB, N.M.

Sergeant Shaw, an inventory management specialist, is assigned to a unit of the Tactical Air Command which provides combat units for air support of U.S. ground forces. He previously served at Nakhon Phanom Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

The sergeant is a 1969 graduate of Yerger High School.

There will be a Country and Western Jamboree, Saturday, August 12, in the Patmos school at 8:00 p.m. Guest band will be Red Goodner and the Country Boys. There is no admission charge.

Jane Fonda subject of hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Internal Security Committee called a closed session today to discuss a member's request that actress Jane Fonda be subpoenaed to testify about her antiwar activities.

Rep. Fletcher Thompson of Georgia, third-ranking GOP member of the nine-man panel, asked the committee to subpoena Miss Fonda for questioning concerning "the entire realm of (her) activities while in the enemy capital of Hanoi and in communist North Vietnam."

Rep. Richard H. Ichord, D-Mo., chairman of the basically conservative committee, told a reporter Wednesday that Miss Fonda "obviously was being used by the North Vietnamese."

JANE FONDA

As for whether she should be subpoenaed, Ichord said he would consult all members of the committee.

Ichord said also the question of giving Miss Fonda an official forum for expressing her views may influence the decision.

Rep. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass., a committee member who has repeatedly fought the panel's investigative activities, said he would oppose any attempt to force Miss Fonda to submit to questioning if it meant that Thompson, who is running this year for the Senate, would use the sessions as a publicity device.

Thompson also said he was asking the attorney general to bring charges of treason against the actress if the reports are true.

Bombings, gunfire follow mass protests in Armagh in Ireland

BELFAST (AP) — Bombs and gunfire rocked the city of Armagh, the religious capital of all Ireland, Wednesday night after a day of mass protest by Northern Ireland's Roman Catholics.

Two bombs caused extensive damage in the center of the city, whose 120,000 population is half Catholic, and 15 shots were fired at troop patrols. There were no casualties, although one bullet buried itself in a soldier's flak jacket.

The violence in the seat of Ireland's Protestant and Catholic archbishops topped a day of gunfire and riot across Northern Ireland as Catholics took to the streets to mark the first anniversary of the British government's internment-without-trial laws.

Fierce rioting was triggered in Belfast by the capture of IRA guerrilla leader Martin Meehan. A mob of 2,000 youths and women hurling fire bombs and rocks besieged more than 500 soldiers in the Ardoyne district, Meehan's stronghold. The troops finally drove the mob off with rubber bullets.

The capture of Meehan, one of the most hunted IRA members, demonstrated that such Catholic strongholds as the Ardoyne ceased to be havens for IRA gunmen when the British troops opened them up 10 days ago.

It was not known whether Meehan, a 26-year-old stevedore, would be put on trial or interned. He escaped from internment last November.

The IRA said in a statement that Meehan gave himself up to avoid bloodshed "by those thugs in uniform." But the army said shots were fired at a patrol as it stormed a house in which Meehan had taken refuge.

Northern Ireland's British administrator, William Whitelaw, was reporting to Prime Minister Edward Heath and his cabinet in London today on his talks with leaders of the Social Democratic and Labor Party, the moderate Catholic party in Northern Ireland.

The feeling in Belfast was that Whitelaw would recommend phasing out internment completely within the next few weeks. He has released about 400 of some 700 who were interned, and moderate Catholic leaders are demanding that the rest be freed.

Londonderry meanwhile faced a tense weekend of Protestant protest despite the cancellation of the annual parade Saturday of the Apprentice Boys, an organization of militant Protestants. The Rev. Ian Paisley said he would hold a parade anyway, but in the Protestant Waterside district.

Candidates release campaign expenses

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — According to statements filed with the Democratic State Committee, Sen. John L. McClellan spent $532,607 in his re-election bid this year in the Democratic primaries.

McClellan defeated Rep. David Pryor in the June 13 runoff. Pryor spent $230,325.69.

Neither of the other two candidates in the first primary, Ted Boswell or Foster Johnson, had expenditure statements on file with the party headquarters, but Boswell has said he spent about $75,000.

Numerous other candidates for state and district offices had not filed statements of their campaign spending Wednesday, although July 29 was the deadline for filing statements for expenses in the May 30 preferential primary. Saturday is the deadline for statements of expenditures of candidates who were in the runoff.

In the governor's race, Gov. Dale Bumpers reported spending $128,221 in his first primary victory. Only two of his opponents filed statements — state Sen. Q. Byron Hurst of Hot Springs said he spent $79,364 and Mack Harbour of Paragould said he spent $24,722.

In the secretary of state's race, incumbent Kelly Bryant said he spent $17,028 in a winning effort and Vernon H. Whitten said he spent $14,429.

Pros. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker of Little Rock, who won the Democratic nomination for attorney general, spent $64,218 and his opponent, Pros. Atty. Bill Thompson of Fort Smith, said he spent $34,961.

Ray Thornton reported spending $51,208.66 in his successful campaign for 4th District congressman. Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana spent $33,734.70.

In the 3rd District congressional race, Guy W. Hatfield of Rogers, who won, filed only an interim report showing expenditures of $1,273.67. Howard G. Cain Jr. of Huntsville reported spending $6,362.50.

Screwworm attack launched by state

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State and federal health officials launched an attack Wednesday on an outbreak of screwworm in Little Rock County.

Dr. Oren Kelsey, veterinarian in charge of animal-plant health inspection in Arkansas, said Wednesday that a screwworm laboratory at Mission, Tex., was in the process of dropping 200,000 sterile flies in the vicinity of the farm of Bill Stewart of Foreman, who said his cattle had become infected from screwworm flies either from Texas or Oklahoma.

Kelsey said laboratory officials would continue to dump the flies in the area once a week through August. Kelsey said the federal government also would dump 60,000 sterile flies in the county. He said this practice would continue as long as there was danger of further infection.

Army kills helicopter; too fancy

WASHINGTON (AP) — After six years and $400 million, the Army has killed its trouble-plagued Cheyenne helicopter program to search anew for a cheaper, less-fancy gunship.

The Army Wednesday notified Congress and Lockheed Aircraft, builder of the Cheyenne, of its decision and announced that it will seek new bids from industry for "the smaller, less-costly aircraft."

Work on Senate revenue-sharing bill complete

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee has finished its work on the $29.8-billion revenue-sharing bill for cities and states.

Committee Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., said he hopes that congressional action, including settlement of differences with a House-passed revenue-sharing bill, will be completed before the break for the Republican National Convention.

Before sending the measure to the Senate floor, the committee Wednesday voted to phase out a matching program providing 75 per cent federal funds for social-service programs and replace it with grants totaling $1 billion a year beginning Jan. 1, 1973.

The committee added a provision for child-care and family-planning services for welfare mothers estimated to total $1 billion in the current fiscal year.

The committee bill calls for distribution of the $29.8-billion revenue-sharing fund on the basis of population, per-capita income and tax effort.

The measure would reduce grants to 17 states and increase allocations to 33 states compared with criteria adopted earlier by the House.

Committee sources said that although allocations to the

Espionage decision goes to judge today

TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — Charges that M. Sgt. Walter T. Perkins tried to pass vital defense secrets to a Soviet spy in Mexico City go to a military judge for deliberation today.

Col. Joseph Peck will consider a verdict in the espionage case against Perkins, a 20-year Air Force veteran, at the conclusion of final arguments by attorneys.

Both sides rested their cases Wednesday.

The Air Force introduced testimony that five documents allegedly stolen by Perkins were crucial to protecting the nation against air invasion and the defense presented testimony from Perkins' Japanese-born wife Michiko.

She said through an interpreter that her husband consumed as much as a fifth of scotch whisky a day, often collapsed on the kitchen floor in a stupor and beat their children when drunk.

Perkins, 37, a father of four from Palo Verde, Calif., pleaded innocent by reason of temporary insanity due to acute alcoholism.

Capt. Reinold Werrenrath III, the Air Force prosecutor, conceded Wednesday that Perkins was an alcoholic. But he told Col. Peck that "there is no question that he was mentally responsible beyond a reasonable doubt."

"He was an expert in intelligence who well realized the significance of these documents," Werrenrath said.

The Air Force contends Perkins, a noncommissioned officer in charge of the intelligence unit, was planning to drop the documents behind a fence at a

Casualties are low in Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The total of South Vietnamese military casualties last week was the lowest since the first week of the North Vietnamese offensive, and enemy casualties were the highest in three weeks, the South Vietnamese command announced today.

The U.S. Command said seven Americans were killed and 36 wounded in action during the week, compared to a weekly average of nine killed and 31 wounded during the previous 18 weeks of the offensive. Three other Americans died of non-hostile causes.

The South Vietnamese command said 2,250 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed during the week, while 463 government troops were killed, 2,115 were wounded and 114 were missing.

'Rider' to end the war heads for Senate vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A rider ordering U.S. forces out of the Indochina war this year headed for a House vote today with some leaders saying it could carry a military foreign-aid bill to defeat.

Leaders on both sides of the war issue predicted the mandate to pull U.S. forces out of Indochina in return for release of American prisoners and a limited cease-fire would be narrowly rejected.

Some, including Speaker Carl Albert and Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford, said a $2.1-billion military foreign-aid bill could be voted down if the war-pullout mandate stays in it. Albert said he feared the bill could be rejected regardless.

But House Foreign Affairs

Committee Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., said: "They'd better take this one if they want any foreign-aid bill. This is the swan song as far as I am concerned."

The Senate already has rejected President Nixon's foreign military-aid requests. Morgan indicated that if the House did the same, foreign aid would not be dead but would be continued on an interim basis.

The war-pullout directive originally carried a deadline of Oct. 1 before House antiwar forces changed it to Dec. 31 to carry it past the November elections and give Nixon a longer period to withdraw the troops.

The directive would order all

U.S. military forces in or over Indochina withdrawn so long as American prisoners were returned, GIs missing in enemy territory were accounted for and a cease-fire was established. The only exception would be for protection of withdrawing forces.

The mandate would carry the force of law but not cut off money for the war as would have a measure approved by the Senate.

In opening votes on the foreign aid bill, the House Wednesday night rejected by voice votes efforts to cut off U.S. aid to Cambodia and Thailand and to suspend aid to Portugal.

Cheyne-McKillip vows said in Saturday rite

Miss Kathryn L. McKillip, daughter of Mrs. R. Harry McKillip of Hope and the late Mr. McKillip, was married to Robert D. Cheyne, Jr. in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at the University Baptist Church of Fayetteville.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Cheyne, Sr., of Bentonville.

Rev. H. D. McCarty officiated over the double-ring ceremony. A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Carol Body, organist; Benny Beals, guitarist; and Miss Janie Bridges, who presented the vocal selections "Sweet Sweet Spirit" and "Wedding Song."

The church was accented by brass candelabra, arrangements of gladioli and a kneeling bench.

The bride was presented in marriage by her uncle, Arthur Strech of Hope. She wore a candlelight gown of imported French organza trimmed with Venise lace medallions. It featured long, fitted sheer sleeves and a sheer bodice which formed a cameo neckline. An A-line skirt fell from the Empire waistline to a pleated hem.

Her chapel-length train was also of imported French illusion with matching Venise lace medallions. The veil was a mantilla of imported French illusion bordered with matching Venise lace.

The bride carried a multi-colored bouquet of assorted flowers on a white Bible.

Attending the bride as maids of honor were Miss Audrey Harper of Benton and Miss Janie Bridges of Benton. Mrs. Peggy Beene of Nashville, sister of the bride, Mrs. Cathy Dewese of Texarkana, Tex., sister of the bridegroom, Miss Lisa Fogleman of Marion, Miss Jennifer Critz of Little Rock, Miss Barbara Brewer of Little Rock and Miss Sandra Kay Morgan of Dermott, served as bridesmaids.

They were attired in floor-length pale blue dotted Swiss over taffeta gowns. The gowns were accented by an Empire waist and high ruffled neckline, and featured Juliet sleeves. The attendants carried multi-colored bouquets of assorted flowers.

Jerry House of Fayetteville and Gary Cheyne of Bentonville, brother of the bridegroom, served as best men. Attending as groomsmen were Roger Brand of Newport, Jack Stell of Houston, Tex., Bob Clements of Little Rock, Jim Baker of Fayetteville, Dale Garrison of Fayetteville and Thomas Dewese of Texarkana, Tex., brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Serving as candle lighters were Matthew McMakin and Mark McMakin, cousins of the bride, of Shawnee, Okla.

Mrs. McKillip, the bride's mother, was attired in a pink peau de soie dress featuring

Miss Hodges, Mr. Blackwood are honored

The former Miss Rebecca Susan Hodges and Otis W. (Buddy) Blackwood were honored with a dinner party Friday evening, August 4, following their wedding rehearsal. Mr. and Mrs. Otis A. Blackwood of Fulton, parents of the groom, hosted the 7:30 p.m. party in the John Halliday Room of the Holiday Inn, North Little Rock.

Guests were seated at a U-shaped table that was decorated with three large arrangements of majestic daisies, marguerites, pompons and blue statice, and complemented with white burning tapers on either side.

The honorees chose this time to present their attendants with remembrances of the occasion, and to exchange gifts.

The former Miss Hodges and Mr. Blackwood were married Saturday, August 5, in Park Hill Baptist Church, North Little Rock.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Lifton Phillips of Hope will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary August 13 at 2 p.m. at the Hope Youth Center. The public is invited to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips are parents of nine girls and three boys. They have 46 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Keep Secrets to Yourself

HELEN BOTTEL

"Nice Girls" Don't Win?

Rap:
"Be a nice little girl and I'll buy you some bubble gum."
"Be nice at the dentist's and he'll give you a balloon."
"Be nice in school and get good grades and you'll get that new dress."

"Go out with that nice boy and you'll get to wear your new dress."
"He wasn't so nice? Oh well, keep on being nice yourself and you'll find the right guy."

All my life I've had this "be nice" junk handed to me. They say if I'm a "nice girl" everything will turn out just great.

Well, maybe it works with bubble gum and balloons, but dating boys isn't the same as "Hand this good kid a candy bar."

"I'm 'nice' and I get hurt. The fellas end up saying 'You're too nice.' In other words, 'I'm bored with you.' I tried being nice in another way to the boy I really fell for, but he just used me and now he's with a loudmouth who probably never earned anything for being 'nice.'"

So send this "sweet thing" a big bouquet of roses. For a booby prize! She sure found out "nice girls don't win!" — SWEARING OFF

Dear S.O.:
"I'll bet there isn't a basically 'nice,' good-hearted (therefore somewhat easily duped) person in the world who at some time or other hasn't mourned, 'Nice guys don't win!' — and resolved to get tougher."

But they seldom join the "black hats" because they aren't built that way and, though you won't believe it now, they usually come out winners in the long run.

...That is, if they aren't pushovers, but learn to be selective. — HELEN

Swearing Off:
...ESPECIALLY if they aren't pushovers and learn to be selective!

Don't change the way you are. Just be careful in choosing your friends: "Nice guys" sometimes get hurt because they're attracted to "not-so-nice guys," who use them.

Smarten up but don't be bitter. — SUE

Dear Rap:
Here's a new thing in wedding announcements. These two don't give a hoot about gifts!

We just received an invitation to the wedding of a college friend. Enclosed was a little engraved card which read:

"There are millions of poor who are cold and hungry and there are so many inequalities that this makes us aware of our riches. Therefore, if you had planned to give us a gift, we would appreciate a contribution instead to your favorite charity or cause so that, because of our marriage, life for others may be a little better. Peace."

Pretty neat, huh? — IMPRESSED

Dear Impressed:
We're impressed, too. (But somehow we doubt that this will start a trend: too many people still "give a hoot about the loot.") — HELEN AND SUE

Dear Helen and Sue:
Hoorah for "Respectable Parents" who learned from their kids that pot isn't harmful and are now for legalization.

While I was in Panama for 18 months, I smoked grass all day, every day, with no bad effects.

Believe me, if everyone in the world would have a joint before going about daily tasks, there wouldn't be a war to protest.

In addition, Helen and Sue, have you ever stopped to ask yourselves what the Indians had in those peace pipes while they were trying to gain freedom and peace from the white man? — FOR IT

Dear For It:
Your last question isn't exactly the best recommendation for pot. While the Indians got peaceful, their country got "took!" — SUE

Dear For It:
I don't think much of your next-to-the-last sentence either! If everyone were constantly stoned the world might go up in smoke. Drifting smoke, that is. — HELEN

Miss Blanchard is luncheon honoree

Miss Susan Blanchard of Murfreesboro, bride-elect of Loy D. Dildy, was honored with a luncheon at the Heritage House on August 5. The bride-elect wore a navy dress and pinned a corsage of fleur d'amour at her shoulder. Among the guests were her mother, Mrs. Darrell Blanchard of Murfreesboro, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Chloe Ponder of Nashville.

Yellow and white daisies decorated the luncheon table where covers were laid for 15 guests. The hostesses, Mrs. Jud Martindale, Mrs. J.G. Martindale and Mrs. Mike Tolleson, presented an electric appliance to their honored guest.

Atlanta withdraws playoff proposal

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Baseball club owners and executives went back to work today with one major issue—major league realignment—still under discussion and another at least temporarily sidetracked.

The question of overhauling the championship playoff series system was tabled Wednesday when the sponsoring Atlanta club of the National League withdrew its proposals after considerable discussion.

The realignment matter is the big issue on the agenda at baseball's two-day summer meetings, expected to close around noon today.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said that proposals to regroup into four six-team leagues or three eight-team leagues have found "considerable interest and much feeling against realignment."

"I wouldn't say there is any clearcut split between the American and National Leagues. Nobody is thinking of anything before 1974."

A split in the present leagues would be along geographical lines. No reason was given for Atlanta's withdrawal of the playoff revision proposals but it is likely they will be offered again at a later date.

One plan called for a series between the winner of the West division and the second place team from the East and the winner in the East and the second place club in the West. In the other plan, both division winners and the teams with the next best winning percentages regardless of their division would qualify.

A two-man delegation from New Orleans bid for a full franchise for that city's 80,000-seat Louisiana Superdome which is now under construction.

If it cannot obtain a full franchise, New Orleans would like to obtain a 30-game schedule with 10 major league teams each playing three of its home games each season there.

Kuhn said he knew of no clubs planning to give up their franchise or of any plans for expansion.

Two youths play non-stop golf

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — After 28 1/2 hours and 450 holes of golf, John Seligman winced as Gary Kaplan's dad changed the bandages on his right hand.

Then the two teen-agers were off into the darkness for another round, on the way to what they hoped would be a world endurance record for around-the-clock, non-stop golf.

The goal is 1,200 holes. At the first tee, 18-year-old John stopped just long enough to smear himself with insect repellent before hitting his tee shot into the blackness.

The two North Miami youths are making their record attempt on the regulation par-72 West Course at Hollywood Lakes Country Club.

Even with automobile headlights jerry-rigged on the front of their golf carts, "playing at night is kind of a pain," 17-year-old Gary explained.

And both seemed to have an uncanny knack for hitting to the unseen green. "You have to remember, we've played this hole 25 times in the last 29 hours," Gary cracked.

Second in a series: Recruiting is the name of the game

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — When Jim Carlen arrived on the Texas Tech campus two years ago, he brought a new sense of excitement and expectation to Southwest Conference football circles.

He was poised, forthright and evangelistic. Indeed, some felt too much so.

But in his first year the Red Raiders romped to an 8-3 season and into the Sun Bowl. The Associated Press named him Southwest Conference Coach of the Year.

Last season was less glamorous and not without its sorry moments, particularly when Carlen criticized the booster club after one of his players was booed.

But more importantly, Carlen's recruiting program, while in its infancy here, has brought change. The accent is on personal contact.

"I think we've made people get out more," Carlen said in an interview in his office overlooking the artificial turf of Tech's Jones Stadium.

"I think all the young coaches are spending more time on the road now. I don't think you can win a kid through an alumnus, but it helps having 'em. You've got to be selective."

"So I think recruiting in Texas has changed since I've been here. There's nine (SWC) coaches and I'm the fifth oldest, and I've been here two years."

"They're out every day and every night and their coaches are out. We just see a lot more coaches on the road than we saw two years ago."

Texas is unique, Carlen says, in the sense that it has more good high school football players than any other state, but it also has more colleges competing for their talents.

"We try to stay as close to home as possible because I think we can do a better job here than spread all over the country," he said.

On a typical recruiting weekend, Carlen releases his forces on Thursday after practice. If the Red Raiders are playing in Lubbock, the recruiters swing across the state, usually by car, most returning by game time Saturday afternoon or night. Daytime hours are spent in motel rooms studying films or talking with coaches and checking the grades of attractive players. Nights are reserved for games.

Phillies blank Pirates

By BRUCE LOWITT Associated Press Sports Writer

"I hit him like I used to hit Koufax," Willie Stargell said of Philadelphia's Steve Carlton, "... which is like drinking coffee with a fork! You ever try that?"

Sandy Koufax, of course, is in Baseball's Hall of Fame now. And if a one-season performance had any bearing on such an honor, Carlton would be a shoo-in for the shrine.

"He was overpowering!" "Amazing!" "A hell of a pitcher!"

The superlatives just wouldn't stop flowing Wednesday night in Pittsburgh after Carlton, a 6-foot-5 veteran left-hander, reeled off his 13th straight victory with a three-hitter to raise his record to 18-6 best in the National League—and struck out 12 batters to boost his major league-leading total to 232 en route to leading the Phillies to a 2-0 triumph over the Pirates.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta blanked Houston 6-0, San Diego beat San Francisco 5-2, Montreal defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-2,

Kapp's suit doesn't worry NFL

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

NOTES-WORTHY:

Reason the National Football League isn't tremulous about possible assault on its opinion clause by the pending Joe Kapp case is that when the veteran quarterback first decided to defy the NFL by not signing a standard contract, the best legal beagles advised the Rozelleleague that "this is one case we can win—if ever you're going to make a court stand, this is it."

Success draw of the Mets still astounds baseball people. And ex-Met Art Shamsky offers one clue: "The Mets are the biggest baby sitters in the world," ... meaning they make an extra effort to drag in the ultra-young (and the fans of the future) ...

The quick transition of Cincinnati outfielder Pete Rose from perennial crewcut to fashionable longhair really started when the Reds were in their late-season '70 pennant drive. So superstitiously they all decided not to get haircuts and Pete went instantly from burr-top to the "world's longest crewcut"—and kept it that way.

Pete, who has knocked in as many as 82 runs in a season as a lead-off man, reveals why it's difficult for him to collect RBIs—he went through the recent stretch of six straight games in which he never got up to the plate with a runner on base. ...

The pitching slump of the Giants' Juan Marichal isn't just a temporary thing—or due to an aching back. The frank fact is that the long high kick of his pitching motion isn't followed by a scary fast ball any more—he's lost the hop. Symptom: reduced strikeout total. ...

Dolphins become powerhouse

MIAMI (AP) — Miami's Dolphins have developed into a youthful, even fuzzy-chinned, pro football powerhouse ... artistically and financially.

The Dolphins sold less than 25,000 season tickets in 1969 when the American Football League expansion team flourished with a 3-10-1 record.

In 1972, Miami is coming off sparkling seasons of 10-4 and 10-3-1 under Coach Don Shula, capped by a trip last January to Super Bowl VI. And Floridians are clamoring to get into the Orange Bowl.

Season ticket sales nudged toward 68,000 this week and the 75,000-seat Orange Bowl is being increased to 80,000.

"We're pleased with what happened the past two seasons," said Shula, who has a 29-8-1 Miami record including the 24-3 beating the Dolphins absorbed against Dallas in Super Bowl VI.

"But," he added, "you're never satisfied until you win it all. That's our aim, to win the Super Bowl."

Miami jumps into the fire instantly, tackling a Kansas City team that was eliminated by the Dolphins 27-24 from the 1971 playoffs in the longest National Football League game ever played. Two weeks later, they will play the Minnesota Vikings. Both games are on the road.

Paul Warfield and Marlin Briscoe, obtained from Buffalo in a trade, give Shula a potent set of wide receivers to act as targets for quarterback Bob Griese, voted the best in the NFL last season.

The running game will continue to be bruising with Larry Csonka and Jim Kiick, but Shula hopes to mold a "three-

Randy Hundley, who'd be right up there with the best catchers in baseball if he hadn't banged up his knees, blames it all on artificial surfaces which now prevail in the majors. They jar his delicate hinges too much for daily play. He originally hurt his knee in a spring run-down play tagging Roger Repoz. And the Cubs' catcher gets a lot of support in his complaint from the Bears' Gale Sayers. ...

Deacon Jones, his pride piqued by his trade from the Rams to the Chargers, has let his weight balloon to 275—a switch from recent years when he tried to keep light and swift. ... O. J. Simpson's also bigger than ever, but the Buffalo back needs it more to belly up to enemy lines. ...

How's this for a generation gap? All the scoring records at Power Memorial High School in New York were held for years by Tom Gorman, who led that school to two city basketball titles in 1930s. Tom got 36 scholarship offers but took a $620 bonus from the New York Giants instead as a baseball pitcher—and now is an esteemed National League umpire. The guy who broke Gorman's cage records: Lew Alcindor a/k/a Kareem Abdul Jabbar of the Milwaukee Bucks. ...

Roman Gabriel still gets a slow burn when the subject of George Allen is brought up. The Ram quarterback is down on his old coach because when Allen was fired from the Rams and took over the Redskins, he intimated to Gabe he'd like him to play out his contract and join him in D.C. But then he called Gabe's ex-wife and said he didn't want the big QB "because he's got too many personal problems." ...

Only thing that can hold Giants' Dave Kingman down from being topgrade slugger for years is the way he gets psyched out if he doesn't hit the ball his first time up in a game. ...

How Charley Finley keeps his employees hopping: he has Jimmy Piersall working on group sales trying to lure people to see the Oakland Athletics—and Jimmy's working on a commission basis. ...

Between you and me, reason you haven't heard much about Joe Thomas, the guy who built the Minnesota and Miami dynasties and then quit the Dolphins in a huff, is that he's been anxiously waiting out an NFL franchise shuffle—there's a big job in it for him. ...

White Sox outduel Angels

ANAHEIM (AP) — Knuck-leballer Wilbur Wood outdueled fireballer Nolan Ryan to become the winningest pitcher in baseball Wednesday night and drove in the game's only run with a seventh-inning single as the surging Chicago White Sox nipped California 1-0.

Wood's 19th victory, a six-hitter, was the fourth in a row for the White Sox and lifted them within one game of first-place Oakland in the American League West after trailing by six a week ago. The two teams begin a four-game series in Oakland Thursday night.

Ryan, 12-10, helped his own downfall when he wild pitched pinch runner Buddy Bradford to second base in the seventh after a two-out single by Ed Herrmann. The Angels then decided to walk Luis Alvarado and face Wood.

But the portly left-hander ruined the strategy with a line single to right as Bradford barely beat the throw to the plate by Lee Stanton.

gether our new players," and the maturity is evident."

"Great defensive teams are usually built over a period of years," Shula said. "Look at the Cowboys. They've become a family that has hardly changed in six or eight years. It's more important on defense than offense to have worked as a unit for a long time."

Shula admits there is more of a "professional air" at the Dolphins training camp.

"It's a sense of knowing what you're supposed to accomplish and doing it ... without being told," he said.

Morris, who complained openly about not playing in the Super Bowl defeat, was the first to say, "This is a happy football team, a team that will settle for nothing short of winning the Super Bowl."

Chess match ends in draw

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer and Boris Spassky are scheduled for their 13th game in the world chess championship today with the score 7-5 in the American challenger's favor. The 12th game ended Wednesday night in a draw.

Russian aides confirmed that the champion's wife and son would arrive from Moscow in time for tonight's game, in which Spassky was to lead off with the white pieces. With a maximum of 12 games still to be played, he needs 7 more points to retain his crown, and Fischer needs another 5 1/2 to take it.

Bears-Oilers play tonight

HOUSTON (AP) — The pass-mad Houston Oilers and the ground-happy Chicago Bears meet tonight in a National Football League exhibition game in the Astrodome.

Houston, in a 24-26 loss to the champion Dallas Cowboys last week, used only 17 running plays while Chicago passed only 12 times in a 10-24 defeat by the Kansas City Chiefs.

The Oilers have six defensive starters out with injuries and only Tuesday lost one of their top offensive linemen, tackle Elbert Drungo, when he was sidelined for the season after knee surgery.

Oiler coach Bill Peterson said he plans to start second year quarterback Lynn Dickey with Dan Pastorini, another second year man, to work the second half. Pastorini worked the first half and Dickey the second against Dallas and they completed 19 of 31 passes for 253 yards and three touchdowns.

Bobby Douglass and Kent Nix are expected to split playing time at quarterback for the Bears. Dick Butkus, Chicago's great linebacker, was used only on kicking situations against the Chiefs but is expected to log more playing time against the Oilers.

The five-day NFL weekend exhibition schedule will continue Friday night with Denver at Washington. There will be eight games Saturday, including an afternoon game at Seattle, Wash. between the New York Jets and Pittsburgh.

At night, it will be Buffalo at New Orleans, Detroit at Cincinnati, St. Louis at Kansas City, Green Bay at Miami, San Diego at Minnesota, Dallas at Los Angeles, and New England at Philadelphia.

Sunday afternoon, Cleveland will play at San Francisco, and Monday night, Baltimore will be at Oakland.

Rebuilding after Agnes' floodwaters continues

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The floodwaters of Tropical Storm Agnes are long gone, but the signs of devastation remain in the thousands of people still homeless, the hundreds of roads still impassable and the acres of cropland still barren.

An Associated Press survey of the area flooded by Agnes

Some state employees underpaid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Some 7,120 Arkansas employees were underpaid by $1.5 million during fiscal year 1971-72, according to the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division here.

Bill D. Guse of Little Rock, area division director, said all the workers now were being paid minimum wage and overtime, although litigation to recover back wages was pending in federal court.

Infractions of federal labor laws were found in "a multitude of different factories, retail stores and financial institutions," Guse said.

Federal law requires that all nonexempt employees be paid a minimum of $1.60 per hour and at least time and a half for anything over 40 hours.

Unpaid overtime under the federal law amounted to $591,208 and minimum wages due amounted to $712,966, Guse said.

Guse said that in most cases the employers accepted the division's findings.

However, litigation resulted in $200,000 in back pay and overtime being paid to female workers at the Daisy Air Rifle plant at Rogers and $170,000 to female employees of American Can Co. at Fort Smith. Both suits alleged employers' violations of the Equal Pay Act.

Calendar Of Events

The Rising Star Baptist Church meeting regularly scheduled for Friday, August 11 will be held Saturday, August 12. A deacons meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. and regular services will begin at 8 p.m.

from June 16 to June 23 showed massive clean-up efforts have provided at least the basic necessities of life for the more than 500,000 persons in the East who suffered from the storm.

The hardest work still lies ahead, however.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development has ordered 9,250 mobile homes at a cost of about $50 million for the Wilkes Barre, Pa., region, for example. But only three of 29 newly designated trailer areas are complete.

The Small Business Administration approved 714 loans totaling about $2.2 million for damaged homes and businesses in West Virginia. But it expects the final figure to reach $5 million for 1,600 loans.

Music Club convention Aug. 12-15

Members of the Arkansas Federation of Music Clubs are completing plans for a meeting in Hot Springs Aug. 12-15 of the National Federation of Music Clubs, the largest music organization in the world. According to "Music Notes," official organ of the Arkansas Federation, "This is going to be a wonderful event and we're trying very hard to provide the best of everything for the approximately 300 people from all over the United States who will attend."

The theme will be "Exploring the Land of Opportunity," and Dr. Merle Montgomery of New York City, national president of the organization, will preside. Hostess for the event will be Mrs. Major Griffin of Jonesboro, president of the Arkansas Federation.

Of special interest locally will be performances by the Ouachita-Tones Choral Ensemble of Ouachita Baptist University at noon Tuesday and by Louis Byron Cady of Texarkana, pianist, Monday at 3:45 p.m. in Convention Hall.

Mrs. Arch Wylie, president of the Southwest District, will host the executive committee dinner on Friday night at the Majestic Hotel. She is also directing arrangements for the luncheon on the final day when "Y'all Come Back" will be the theme and the Southwest District will be the host district. Those attending from Hope will include Mrs. Wylie, Mrs. James McLarty, president of the Friday Music Club, Mrs. Helen Hatch, immediate past president, Mrs. B.W. Edwards and Mrs. Clarence Geist.

The Office of Emergency Preparedness said Wednesday that Agnes caused 118 deaths and more than $3 billion in property damage. It said 5,000 square miles of land were inundated by 26.1 trillion gallons of water that fell and flooded communities along 4,500 miles of major rivers and 9,000 miles of streams and tributaries.

OEP Director George Lincoln said that more than $2.2 billion in federal and private relief will be available to help rebuild. He said the expenditures represented "by far the largest federal outlay ever to assist states, counties and cities to spring back into first-class shape."

But the statistics don't tell the whole story. They don't tell about the hard crab industry in Maryland where crabs are catching more shellfish than ever, but can't sell them because of health department reports that raw sewage was washed into Chesapeake Bay by the storm.

They don't tell about the Lemmerman Farm Market in Wyckoff, N.J., which, for the first time in 33 years of operation, ran out of corn by 11 a.m. on Sunday morning — a big sales day — because floods had ruined the crops.

And they don't tell about the Branch family of Kingston, Pa. Water filled the first floor of their house, warping every door and window and wiping out all the furnishings.

In most areas, the most critical problems are finding housing for the homeless and repairing damaged streets and other city facilities.

In Virginia, where 12 persons died and one is missing, Agnes caused damage totalling $167,491,300 in 59 of the state's 96 counties. "As far as we can determine, it was the state's worst flooding in terms of destruction, cost and water level — just about everything," said James Bradley of the Office of Civil Defense.

Ninety-six houses were destroyed; 1,346 suffered major damage; and 4,638 suffered minor damage. The total bill: almost $29 million.

Six hundred miles of interstate, primary and secondary roads and 130 bridges were destroyed or damaged. The total bill: $13 million.

In New York State, where 24 counties were flooded, private property losses are estimated at more than $400 million, public property losses at $221 million and agricultural losses at $84 million.

The Small Business Administration said that 19,122 homes and 1,723 businesses were destroyed or damaged in the seven hardest-hit counties.

Maryland officials won't even put a price tag on the damage yet. But the federal government alone is committed to spending $83 million for cleaning up the debris, repairing roads and bridges, fixing utilities, rebuilding damaged schools and making low-interest loans to homeowners.

In Ellicott City, Md., some entrepreneurs are giving tours of flood areas at 50 cents a head with profits going to storm victims. The tour includes hollow stores on West Main Street, condemned businesses and a walk through one building with holes in the floor.

Officials in Pennsylvania put the total flood damage at $2.5 billion. That includes 68,000 homes and nearly 3,000 small businesses destroyed or damaged. Crop damage, soil erosion and loss of livestock, farm buildings and machinery is figured at $270 million.

The clean-up efforts haven't been without problems, the latest of which occurred Wednesday with a three-sided shouting match in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., involving HUD Secretary George Romney, Gov. Milton J. Schapp and a crowd of flood victims.

The Democratic governor renewed his request for the federal government to pay off the old mortgages of families suffering heavy losses from Agnes.

Romney called Schapp's plan "unrealistic and demagogic" and said the governor was injecting political issues into the problem of flood recovery.

Min Matheson, head of the local Flood Victims Action Council, then pushed a picture of a devastated area in Romney's face and shouted: "You don't give a damn whether we live or die!"

People in the News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleanor McGovern, a former scholastic debater, says she is willing to debate First Lady Pat Nixon.

Mrs. Nixon had been asked if she would be willing to debate Mrs. McGovern, wife of the Democratic presidential nominee, and laughingly told reporters, "I heard she didn't want to debate."

Mrs. McGovern, asked on Wednesday about Mrs. Nixon's remark, said, "Yes, I think I would debate with Mrs. Nixon. I certainly wouldn't back away from it."

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actor Tony Curtis has won temporary custody of two daughters, Alexandra, 8, and Allegra, 6, from their mother, German actress Christine Kaufman.

Curtis said in a complaint that the children were shuttled back and forth from country to country and were left with an assortment of governesses while in their mother's custody.

Superior Court Judge Edward R. Brand on Wednesday set a custody hearing for Oct. 9 and issued a restraining order preventing Miss Kaufman from taking the children out of the country.

Alexandra and Allegra are staying with Curtis and his third wife, Leslie, in their Bel Air home.

Curtis was married to Miss

Kaufmann from 1963 to 1968.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace is continuing to improve from injuries suffered in a May 15 assassination attempt, but doctors say he may have to undergo another operation.

However, doctors said Wednesday they would wait before deciding on whether to perform an abscess drainage operation again.

"X rays today showed a cavity connected with a previous drain site that will require more time for healing," said Dr. George A. Hallenbeck, who performed the earlier surgery. "It is uncertain whether additional surgical drainage will be necessary."

Wallace, paralyzed from the waist down due to bullet wounds, appeared briefly before newsmen earlier Wednesday and said, "I feel good."

BEACHED WIVES PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — The marriages of many sailors head straight for the rocks, says a vicar at one of Britain's leading naval bases.

"Long spells of separation, inevitable in naval life, cause immediate friction in marriages," the Rev. William Sargent told Royal Navy chiefs.

He plans to start a marriage reconciliation bureau in the town for sailors and their wives.
